

Arkansas Data Use Professional Development Modules Potential Applications for Use by Educators September 15, 2010

The Arkansas Data Use Professional Development Modules may be utilized by educators in a variety of ways. Below are suggestions for utilizing the modules:

By principals for school-wide professional development

The Arkansas Data Use Professional Development Modules may be utilized by building principals to review data during professional development days. Principals may also utilize the modules for grade and subject-level professional learning communities throughout the year to enhance data-driven decision making.

By district personnel for district-wide professional development

The Arkansas Data Use Professional Development Modules may be utilized by district personnel to review data during professional development days. District personnel may also utilize the modules for district level professional learning communities throughout the year to enhance data-driven decision making.

By personnel from Arkansas Department of Education (ADE) to provide professional development to districts and schools "in need of improvement"

The Arkansas Data Use Professional Development Modules may be utilized by personnel from ADE to provide professional development to schools and districts identified as "in need of improvement".

By External Providers and Supplemental Service Providers

The Arkansas Data Use Professional Development Modules may be utilized by ADE authorized External Providers and Supplemental Service Providers through participation in professional development opportunities provided by education cooperatives.